SUBJECT:

ABSTRACT

The current piece of writing aims to explain the significance and importance and the analysis of the English language, as the answer for global accepting and world instruction, under the phenomena called globalization. This analysis shows that distinct views assess the phenomena mostly to the same conclusion: the English language is the nowadays tool for international organization and communication. Major international and transnational organizations do have a policy of having the English language under their competencies, such as INTERPOL and UNITED NATIONS ORGANIZATION, to name only two of the biggest ones, and most known. The competencies of these organizations show that the English language is fundamental, to say the least. Also, in major activity events, such as the ones Brazil will be playing a major role in the next years, English will be the input for making the communication in the actions flourishing or not. To assist and connect with the universe and global stage at this world then the English language will mostly be useful only if it is in use.

INTRODUCTION

The aim of the present article is to conceit that the English language and globalization march side by side, towards the aim of communication, business and politics, making simpler the ways around the world away from the pragmatically approach about the language and the globalization itself. It is also uncovered the realistic use of the English language in the daily of the human being all over the world.

The way used for the construction of this study was the systematic examination of articles, e-books and websites linked to the issue.

According to David Graddol,

"there will be two billion people speaking or learning English within a decade. For The Economist English is the language of globalization, among other nouns. Everywhere, anywhere today and most certainly tomorrow, English is to be present in the life of every citizen around the globe. It is the main tool for operating in most fields: INTERNET, banking, travelling."

Globalization is all the time more of relations of people, culture and economy. It can contribute to economic growth in different countries. The word can also submit to the global movement of ideas, languages, and popular culture.

Even though the frequent practice of the phrase of globalization started in 1970s and some scholars claim that the real globalization is antique, the truth is: it is here and it is followed by the English language, like it or not. English, or better said, the concept of English language known as 'International English' is the global view of the language or an international standard for the language. It can also be referred as: Global English, World English or even Globish. In spite of the at variance if it is a preferred standardization or killing of the language, the focus here is to show that it is globally accredited to be the most global language of all times.

VALUES OF GLOBALIZATION

It is possibly simplistic to say that from the last twenty years is the time period of globalization. Yes there is even more increasing intercontinental commerce, financial and technological which copulates to an international economy. But not only those, the flux of innovations, information and people also reaches a higher level every day. With those, problems that once were local, today are global, to name some: environmental obliteration, secret immigration, violence, drug trafficking, these troubles do not any more go stable under a nations rule of justice, and it does not subject how tough the realm is they have gone global.

The rise and fall of information and people increases in the world these days and with it known problems, the distance between the globally included and those expelled. The counterpoint of this problem is the increase of an uncontrollable migration rise and fall with its exposure: intolerance. Diseases also do not esteem limits and the stable migration of people makes it easier for it to spread. Drug Cartels and planned offense are increasing and regrouping in the most unbelievable ways decades before.

This globalization does not come only in the evil way. There has also grown an international wide awake that the world is on 'One world or no world'. In an each time more mutually dependent world, global problems require world approach.

The surroundings most surely show that the world is covered in itself. If a adversity happens on one side of the Globe, most positively it will resound on another side. Such views nowadays are easier to see when we talk about the El Niño. As the slogan says that does something close by, imagine globally, the prologue of the notion of harmony questions the economic control when planning come to environmental troubles.

The almost synchronized creation of the Green Parties in Europe, and around the world afterwards, shows that the values of humanity tend to be the same. Also other organizations such as International Amnesty show that even in the world of war, be it local, national or world, the values are each time similar.

A lot of global troubles and co-dependent needs can only show that we do live in a world with similar, if not corresponding principles. Any reasonable human being will see that these needs and values do need to be transmissible in the region of the Globe. And the way today for that to happen, for good or bad, is by the English language.

IMPORTANCE OF ENGLISH LANGUAGE AT INTERNATIONAL ORGANISATIONAL AND COMMUNICATION

There are six official language existed in United Nation, but among them English is the most reliable language and most accepted among the people. The 1945 constituent agreement of The United Nations Organization did not offer authorized languages for its offices, it was flush enacted in five languages: English, Russian, Chinese, Spanish, and French.

Throughout the first session of the United Nations common congregation, it was adopted and accepted rules of procedure and practice location out the five languages and two operational languages: English and French. In the next year it was adopted lasting rules: Resolution 173 (II). In 1983 the Security Council also recognized English, among others, as the working languages.

The phenomena globalization and universal and they require for a resourceful method of communication around the world is an information which does not depend on our inadequate or not, believing or not, it is a fact. The sphere of English is, today a essential need for any professional and specialized in any main area. The internationalization of manpower made nations accept English as the official language of the world, as said before and the learning of the language opens doors for individual, professional and cultural development.

The Universities colleges just about the world nowadays are trying more and more early, the factual knowledge of English language in its exams. Not only the student need the acknowledgement and use of the language, also the professional in different areas, private and state, need this knowledge in proper way. The authenticity shows that: or you have the sphere of the language or your probability will be less.

With the advent of the INTERNET, the knowledge of the English language is fundamental for the one in search of a more efficient research trough the WWW - World Wide Web. INTERNET also tends to be, in the future, one of the most powerful technological instruments, which will send information in a more efficient way, in a faster way.

English, is the most excepted and well-known language in the order of the world. Even in other major countries like China, India and many more people are talking more and more in English. If you take a trip, and you use the language, your trip will undoubtedly be much more pleasurable.

In common, it can be uttered the words that there is a 'Universe of the English Language'. This appearance reaches the language, culture, education, goods of all sorts et. This universe wrapped all conduct of life of contemporaneous. The use of English expressions in other languages is particularly lot. It is simply mentioned that conclusion is that you are in a very concrete sense, disadvantaged if you do not know English.

REGIONALISM, INTERNATIONAL AGENDA AND GLOBALIZATION OF 21ST CENTURY

A legal agreement has already been done that the word which emerged from the 1990s is specifically defined by the term globalization and the regionalism in which the role of well known nation and state is unclear. The happening of globalization had before uncovered to be irreversible because of a world absorbed in an autonomous creating and opening in various regions, the crash of commercial barriers and political and the new structure of the universal financier system. It is like to the globalization and its occurrence there was also increase regionalism. Different parts of chief nations are regrouping in certain regions about commercial assistance mainly, Europe is one of the best explicit examples, and ASEAN and MERCOSUL are other examples.

Every time more combined world, actions from local places does influence world proceedings. The present era is a new one, starts in a more versatile area that the globe has no experience of it before. And this is the reason that there is a need to examine and attach the system through another new systems: socially, legally, politically, culturally, militarily, and connection has to be done in a language that all can comprehend.

Every year hundreds of big business men and their resources persons, bankers, state human resources, journalists and intellectuals from various parts of the world meet in one place at Davos, Switzerland for the World Economic discussion. Each year they reorganize new policies and ideas select on the path of the world must take, they manage virtually all big international sectors and institutions, some of the governments and they mainly focuses on the use of English Language to arrogate, derogate, advocate and allot decisions that will touch and influence every living human being in the world.

It is quite open that the upcoming 21st century on the way of progress with the English Language is in the central factor. At international region, it will be exclusively accepted as essential factor. Even when we talk in regionalism the English Language will be used and determined to externalize the climax and scheme of those nations or regions. The most significant and important and maybe not the most recognized, international meeting, organized in Davos, every year also has it's externalization as of side to side the media completed frequently done in English Language, not to say the discussion itself that do occur in the English Language as excellent.

CONCLUSION

So the significance and importance of English language resides on knowing the knowledge and using it. And so, while using the language it is necessary that the user has a conceptual theoretical understanding of what language is from the point of the knowledge needed to use it and from the point of the use that is made from these acknowledgement, to make meanings in the communal world. In this sense the building of the sense is social. The symbols that name social identity's, such as: rich, poor, men, women, black, white, homosexual, heterosexual, elderly, youth et, are inherent in the purpose of how people can act in the language or with others in relative to them, in their range of connections, oral and written, from which they contribute. When uttering the language with another, it is done from a determined social place, and historical one.

In the systemic level a person already knows that the construction of meanings envelops the establishment of cohesive standards, so when finding the pronoun 'he', in Portuguese, it is known he has to search before, in the text, the masculine gender. In the world knowledge, a person knows he has to look in the text for a correct meaning from a coherent understanding. In the organization knowledge, it will be known to the reader that in a certain area of the text, it will be referent to a certain topic, such as signature in a letter, for instance. The main objective is to show how the learning of a non-maternal language, mainly English, can be done, towards communication in a globalist world.
